Dark ruby-colored, offers up an enticing bouquet of cedar, spice box, black cherry, and black raspberry. On the palate it is medium-bodied, elegant, and potentially complex. Sweetly-fruited, lively, and well-balanced, it will drink well through 2017. – J.M.

Smooth and velvety, with a nubby feel to the tannins around a generous core of plum, berry and spice flavor. Lingers easily and effectively, demanding another sip. Drink now through 2015. – H.S.

Displays an intriguing aromatic array of smoke, mineral, earth notes, spice box, and black fruits. Layered and ripe on the palate, it has a smooth texture, enough structure to evolve for 1-2 years, and a lengthy, pure finish. It will offer a drinking window extending from 2011 to 2019.
